AN ORAL HISTORY OF KINGSTON'S CINEMAS

Did you work in any of Kingston's cinemas in the past?

Were you a frequent cinema goer?

Would you like to come and share your memories for a new local history project?

Kingston Heritage Service have teamed up with oral history specialists digital-works on a project that will explore and record the history of Kingston's cinemas from the perspective of those who worked in them and visited them over the years.

We are looking for anyone who can spare an hour to share stories of their working lives as projectionists, usherettes, managers etc or simply as frequent visitors to any of the Royal Borough's many cinemas in their heyday. The interviews will form an important addition to the Borough's archives

You'll be making history in this fun and fascinating project.
